Remote Working Policy

Document ID: EN-POL-06 Department: Human Resources Version: 2.2 Effective Date: 1 September 2025

1. Purpose

This policy sets out the terms under which eligible employees of Meridian Holdings Group may work remotely, and the responsibilities of employees and managers in supporting effective remote working arrangements.

2. Eligibility

2.1 Remote working arrangements are available to employees whose role does not require regular physical presence at a Company site, subject to line manager approval.

2.2 Eligibility for remote working is assessed on a role-by-role basis and does not constitute an automatic entitlement.

3. Working Arrangements

3.1 Employees approved for hybrid working are expected to attend their designated office location a minimum of two days per week, unless a fully remote arrangement has been separately agreed.

3.2 Remote working employees must be contactable and available during the Company's core hours of 10:00 AM to 4:00 PM local time, unless otherwise agreed with their line manager.

4. Equipment and Expenses

4.1 The Company will provide a laptop, monitor, and standard peripherals for remote work. Employees are responsible for providing a suitable, safe workspace with adequate internet connectivity.

4.2 A one-time home office setup allowance of £150 is available to employees on a fully remote contract, claimable through the Expense Reimbursement Policy (EN-POL-07).

5. Security Requirements

5.1 Remote employees must comply fully with the IT Acceptable Use Policy (EN-POL-01), including use of the Company VPN for all access to internal systems and encryption of any physical documents containing confidential information.

6. Performance Management

6.1 Remote working employees are subject to the same performance standards and review processes as office-based employees. Line managers should agree clear objectives and check-in schedules with remote team members.

7. Review and Withdrawal

7.1 Remote working arrangements are reviewed annually and may be withdrawn by the Company where business needs change or where performance concerns arise, with reasonable notice provided to the employee.
